Elevate Student Ministries

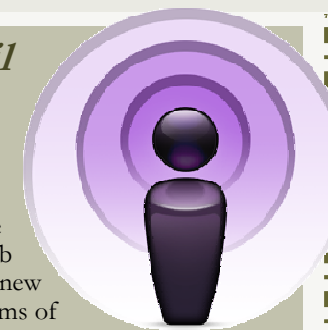

DECEMBER-JANUARY NEWSLETTER

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 1

DEC 2007-JAN 2008

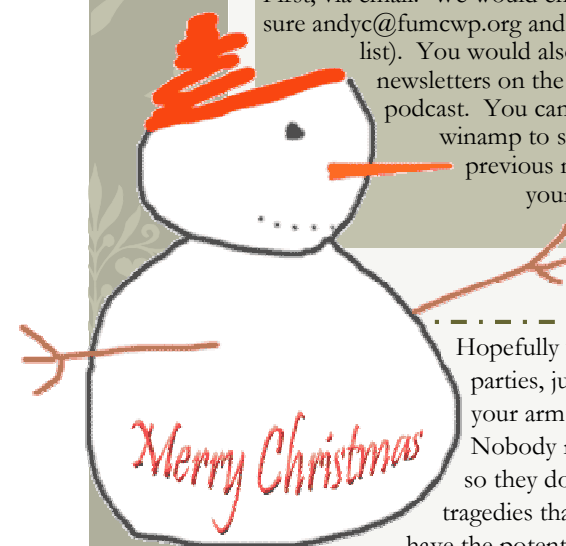

Newsletter Podcast/Email

We are so excited about this announcement. First UMC of Winter Park has been in the process of going "green" and we (ELEVATE) think it's a pretty good idea. God put us in charge of the animals, and the plant life, so it's our job to take care of them. Starting with the new year we will be launching two new systems of receiving your monthly newsletter: Email and podcast. The Bottom Line: Email Chris (ChrisS@fumcwp.org) with a list of the email address(es) to which you would like to receive your email newsletter or if you would like to subscribe to the podcast/rss feed. ALSO, say whether or not you would like to still receive the newsletter via SNAIL MAIL. I ask you to PLEASE follow up with this so we can start conserving paper and putting the money normally used for postage to other good uses in Student Ministries. You can always email us later and change back if you don't like it. For more information on these systems:

First, via email. We would email the newsletters to you with a pdf attachment (make sure andyc@fumcwp.org and chrisS@fumcwp.org are added to your approved sender list). You would also be able to access the current and past months newsletters on the elevate website. The second method is via podcast. You can use programs like itunes, juice, alligator (PSP) or winamp to subscribe to and download a pdf file of the latest and previous newsletters. You can also subscribe to the podcast with your RSS reader, programs like iGoogle, SharpReader, Mail.app and RssReader.

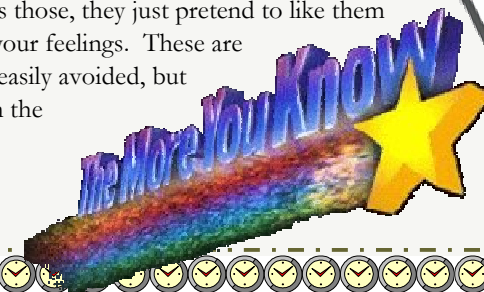

Christmas Parties

Hopefully you are having fun this Christmas with Christmas parties, just be careful when throwing them not to strain your arm. And please remember, don't give fruitcakes. Nobody really likes those, they just pretend to like them so they don't hurt your feelings. These are tragedies that can be easily avoided, but have the potential to ruin the Christmas season.

The more you know.

You can now get the ELEVATE Calendar online. Just go to:
<http://calendar.elevatesm.org>

NO ELEVATE

We will not be having ELEVATE on December 23rd and 30th because of ...you guessed it, Christmas and New Years. Also, beginning the week following the Christmas party (Dec 17), regularly schedule activities will be suspended until the new year, except HS girls group, check with Sunny for specifics. So no ELEVATE, bible studies, small groups or planning meeting.

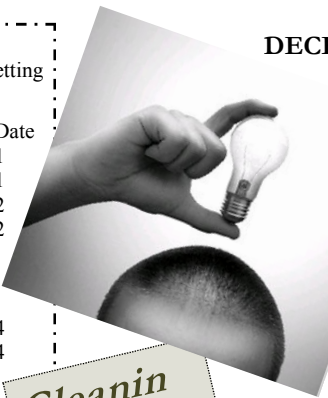

Encounter Retreat—Redeem the Time

Mark your calendars now Feb 15-17!! This is going to be an amazing weekend to get closer to God and to your friends. We will be going to camp Geneva for the weekend where we will be doing all sorts of things from football to family groups, worshipping with Taylor Maxwell and to "Redeem the Time" with our speaker Brent Gambrell. The cost for the weekend is $135. As always don't let money be the reason you don't go, WE WANT YOU THERE!! We will have scholarships available, so contact Andy (AndyC@fumcwp.org) for information about those.

Gleanin

On Jan 19 we will be going gleanin. For those of you who don't know what that is..... it is where we go to orchards or farms and pick the leftover fruit or vegetables to bring to organizations that distribute it to the homeless. It is a great mission outreach that is fun yet rewarding. We will be meeting in the large church parking lot at 8:00AM and returning at 1PM. Bring money for lunch. If you are interested in going then contact Chris at ChrisS@fumcwp.org and let him know so we can plan for transportation.

Ideas

This is the newest idea from ELE-VATE Student Ministries. We know that God works at the church, but just as much He is working in each of your lives. So we will be throwing out new ideas and thoughts into a new section of the newsletter called the Idea Promenade thoughts about them, to be able to respond with ideas about it, or maybe this is something you want to pick up the ball and run with. Email Chris (chriss@fumcwp.org) if you have comments!

This month's idea: Video production team. What are your thoughts on getting together with friends to plan (probably with many laughs) and produce wild and crazy videos some that have a point and others that don't or are just for the heck of it.

S.L.T. Meeting

We plan games, we plan messages, we plan gross and disgusting stuff that will make you wonder who's the poor unfortunate soul that'll be partaking, and we need your help to continue on in this direction or even to give us ideas to take us in a new direction. Whatever it is we're here to connect with God and see where He's leading us. We meet in the ELEVATE office at 5PM on Mondays.

AIM Groups

This is where all the action is!

Do you have questions about God? Do you want to get closer to God? Are you just confused by God and what He wants? Well AIM groups is a place where you can ask tough questions, discuss hard topics and things that you've wondered about and through all the questioning, discussing and considering you'll get closer to the God of the Universe who created us and loves us. All Middle Schoolers - Thursday evenings 6-8PM in the 3rd floor lounge above the gym. Chris, Kristi McCoy and Donna Bailey lead this group

High School Guys - Wednesday evenings in the ELEVATE office. Andy leads this group
6-8PM
10-12 Grade Girls - Tuesday morning 6:30AM at Carol Smith's house (SunnyW@fumcwp.org for more info). Sunny and Carol Smith lead this group
If you are interested in leading a 9 grade girls, an evening girls or any other AIM group, let Andy (AndyC@fumcwp.org) or Chris (ChrisS@fumcwp.org) know!

when no one else was around?
B: I think it was "Over my shoulder" by Mika
C: If you were a crayon, what color would you be and why?
B: I would be red, 'cause it's my favorite color
C: How would your friend describe you to someone who has never seen you?
B: Maybe funny and energetic, athletic and nice
C: What's the best costume you've ever worn?

We have some awesome counselors at ELEVATE, and in the top of those ranks stands a man new to the scene, maybe you've seen him hangin' around. Well, I thought I'd introduce you to a guy that's recently become a good friend of mine, Bryan Gettys.

Chris: How old are you?
Bryan: 21, I'll be 22 on Dec 17
C: Well, Happy Birthday then. Where did you come from?
B: Illinois baby, we don't pronounce the "s" in Illinois
C: Thanks for the English lesson. What was the last song you sang

B: Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles that my mom made me, by far, I think I was Michelangelo
C: Nice, I was Donatello at least a couple year in there. Does your chewing gum lose it's flavor on the bedpost overnight?
B: I would never put my chewing gum on the bedpost overnight, ever, that's just so gross
C: What was the best thing before sliced bread?
B: Probably pop-ices, I really dig 'em, pink, red and grape are my favorite flavors
C: I love how "pink" and "red"

are flavors, but we all knew exactly what you meant. What cartoon character best describes you?
B: Huckleberry hound, he's just really chill and laid back. He seems like a pretty relaxed guy
C: If you had 30 minutes of leisure time what would you do?
B: I would probably go kayaking
C: Speaking of your favorite activities, Sunny tells me you watch chick-flicks like it's your job, your comments?
B: Ha, ha yeah, I watched 2 today that were just excellent, 1) Catch and Release, it's really good and 2)Georgia Rule, that had a crazy twist, it's, it's just crazy, it's a bit more emotional
C: Simply beautiful. Other interesting things I should know about?
B: I love movies, I don't get all the hype about football, and go Bayside Tigers (Saved by the Bell)

Andy's Message

1 Thessalonians 5:17 says "Pray without ceasing." Doesn't this command from Paul seem impossible? I know that I don't pray constantly. I am quite sure that the vast majority of Christians don't either. That makes me feel as though I just can't live up to the standard. And I probably never will.

But Paul is not Greek. He is Hebrew, and in Hebrew there are more than 40 different words for prayer. English and Greek are, unfortunately, abbreviated languages when it comes to prayer. We have but one word, and that word often carries with it a particular meaning associated with the formal prayers of worship. When you think about "Let us pray," you probably think of the congregation bowing their heads while some pastor invokes eloquent words toward heaven. You may think of kneeling, folding hands (or lifting them up). And then you think, "There is no way I can do that 24-7." In fact, even if you do silent prayer, you will probably agree that there are long periods of time when you just aren't saying those prayerful words even in your mind but thinking of what you need to get done today. It's OK. That is not what Paul has in mind. Paul uses the Greek adialeptos (literally, "not leaving a gap"), but he is thinking from a Hebrew perspective.

The original manuscripts of the Bible have no chapter and verse numbers. We added those later! Erase them. Then read this again. You will discover that it is the middle of one continuous thought. Rejoice always, pray without gaps, in everything give thanks. That's the whole picture.

If you think of that picture in your mind then the meaning kind changes. (Read Thessalonians 12-15). If praying without gaps is the middle of an attitude of thanksgiving, set in the context of commitment to others, then how do you suppose this kind of praying will come about? Do you suppose it will be a constant stream of silent words sent toward heaven? Or is it more likely that it will be displayed in the other 39 words in Hebrew thought used for praying? Those words include weeping, crying, dancing, blessing, lifting, calling, summoning, entreating, groaning, roaring, praising, confessing, meditating, declaring, remembering, counting, and a dozen more actions that belong to everyday life. In other words, prayer is not a specific religious ritual as much as it is a lifestyle that permeates all our thoughts, words and deeds. In fact, if praying happens continuously in all that you do, you will experience the reality that work, school and worship are the same word in Hebrew. You will live in prayer because you will be in constant connection with God, even if it is in dancing, crying, declaring, meditating or all the rest.

As you go throughout your days may you live a life of 24/7 worship that brings Glory to the God who loves you so very much!!

10th-12th Grade Christmas Brunch

Hey Girls! We are having a 10th-12th Grade Christmas Brunch. Wow, now that's a title! This awesome time of fellowship and fun to celebrate son. All 10th-12th grade girls are welcome to attend. Food all girls are asked to RSVP and bring a girly gift (under $5) for a white elephant gift exchange. It will be held at the Cooper's home. Hope to see you all there! - Sunny. Contact me at sunnyw@fumcwp.org for questions and details.

Girls

Girls Bible Study is going to be an the Christmas season will be provided but Christmas Time is Here...

In case you missed the memo, Christmas is coming up! Ya know...that time of the year where we hear Santa at the mall ringing the bell for the salvation army (not only does Santa give presents to all good boys and girls, but he also works for the salvation army too, man what a generous and supposedly it gets cold, yeah that's all because of our man Jesus, it's His birthday. So go home, be with family and eat some food. Merry Christmas!
